Trust to Nature.

A great many Americans, both men and women, are thin, pale and puny, with poor circulation, because they have ill-treated their stomachs by hasty eating or too much eating, by consuming alcoholic beverages, or by too close confinement to home, office or factory, and in consequence the stomach must be treated in a natural way before they can rectify their earlier mistakes. The muscles in many such people, in fact in every weary, thin and thin-blooded person, do their work with great difficulty. As a result fatigue comes early, is extreme and lasts long. The demand for nutritive aid is ahead of the supply. To insure perfect health every tissue, bone, nerve and muscle should take from the blood certain materials and return to it certain others. It is necessary to prepare the stomach for the work of taking up from the food what is necessary to make good, rich, red blood. We must go to Nature for the remedy. There were certain roots known to the Indians of this country before the advent of the whites which later came to the knowledge of the settlers and which are now growing rapidly in professional favor for the cure of obstinate stomach and liver troubles. These are found to be safe and yet certain in their cleansing and invigorating effect upon the stomach, liver and blood. These are: Golden Seal root, Queen's root, Stone root, Bloodroot, Mandrake root. Then there is Black Cherrybark. The medicinal principles residing in these native roots when extracted with glycerine as a solvent make the most reliable and efficient stomach tonic and liver invigorator, when combined in just the right proportions, as in Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery. Where there is bankrupt vitality—such as nervous exhaustion, bad nutrition—and thin blood, the body acquires vigor and the nerves, blood and all the tissues feel the favorable effect of this sovereign remedy.

Although some physicians have been aware of the high medicinal value of the above mentioned plants, yet few have used pure glycerine as a solvent and usually the doctors' prescriptions called for the ingredients in varying amounts, with alcohol.

The "Golden Medical Discovery" is a scientific preparation compounded of the glyceric extracts of the above mentioned vegetable ingredients and contains no alcohol or harmful habit-forming drugs.

A FACT PROVEN.

Should Convince Even the Most Skeptical of Its Truth.

If there is the slightest doubt in the minds of any that Dandruff germs do not exist, their belief is compelled by the fact that a rabbit inoculated with the germs became bald in six weeks' time.

It must be apparent to any person therefore that the only prevention of baldness is the destruction of the germ—which act is successfully accomplished in one hundred per cent. of cases by the application of Newbro's Herpicide.

Dandruff is caused by the same germ which causes baldness and can be prevented with the same remedy—Newbro's Herpicide.

Accept no substitute. "Destroy the cause you remove the effect."

Sold by leading druggists. Send 10c. in stamps for sample to The Herpicide Co., Detroit, Mich.

Two sizes—50 cents and $1.00.

Rheumatism

I have found a tried and tested cure for Rheumatism! Not a remedy that will straighten the distorted limbs of chronic cripples, nor turn bony growths back to flesh again. That is impossible. But I can now surely kill the pains and pangs of this deplorable disease.

In Germany—with a Chemist in the City of Darmstadt—I found the last ingredient with which Dr. Shoop's Rheumatic Remedy was made a perfected, dependable prescription. Without that last ingredient, I successfully treated many, many cases of Rheumatism; but now, at last, I uniformly cures all curable cases of this heretofore much dreaded disease. Those sand-like granular wastes, found in Rheumatic Blood, seem to dissolve and pass away under the action of this remedy as freely as does sugar when added to pure water. And then, when dissolved, these poisonous wastes freely pass from the system, and the cause of Rheumatism is gone forever. There is now no real need—no actual excuse to suffer longer without help. We sell, and in confidence recommend

ARTIST KILLED BY A WOMAN.

Webster S. Guerin, a Chicago artist, was shot and instantly killed yesterday by Mrs. Flora McDonald, the youthful wife of Michael C. McDonald, at one time Chicago's king of gamblers, former proprietor of the Daily Globe, the former democratic political boss, and now multi-millionaire railroad magnate.

Guerin, who was also known as Louis Fisher, was shot in his studio following a quarrel with Mrs. McDonald, who entered the place shortly before noon.

When arrested, Mrs. McDonald was trying to crawl through the broken glass of the studio door which she had shattered by forcing her head through it. The studio door was locked.

Her face was bleeding where it had been cut by the broken glass, and she was wedged in the jagged opening, unable to get either way. The police, who searched her at the Harrison street station, took a revolver from the bosom of her dress, where she hid it after shooting Guerin.

In a hysterical confession, made in her cell, the millionaire's wife declared that she and Guerin had maintained a clandestine love affair, and that the artist had used his power over her to blackmail her. According to the police, she said she tired of Guerin's repeated demands for money, and went to his office for the purpose of killing him.

For an hour after she was arrested the police were unable to learn Mrs. McDonald's identity. She fainted at the studio before the arrival of the police. When taken to the station she was so hysterical that she was unable to talk.

She raved in her cell, and it was necessary for several policemen to hold her to keep her from doing herself violence. She tried repeatedly to dash her head against the iron bars of her cell.

She finally gave the name of Benjamin M. Shaffner, an attorney, who was immediately sent for, and identified the woman as his niece, Mrs. Michael C. McDonald, and the former wife of Samuel H. Barclay, at one time a baseball player attached to the old Browns team, of St. Louis.

It is said that Guerin attempted to collect money from Mrs. McDonald sometime ago under threats, and Mrs. McDonald went to California to avoid him.

McDonald told the police he had given his wife a great deal of money recently, altogether about $2,500, and did not know what she had done with it, but now believed she had given it to the artist. Yesterday morning, before he left the house, he asked Mrs. McDonald what she was doing with all the money. She broke down, he says, and cried. Finally, she cried out, between her sobs:

"I will settle in full today."

"This was the settlement," grimly said McDonald, in his statement to Inspector Wheeler.

Guerin was a friend of McDonald's sons, and in this way met Mrs. McDonald. He took her to balls, parties, theaters, and receptions, and they were seen together in the down-town restaurants.

On many occasions McDonald himself accompanied the two. It is said that Guerin's long acquaintance with him—he had known him since he was a baby—dulled any suspicion he might have entertained.

More than thirty years ago McDonald erected one of the finest mansions in a fashionable West Side district, Chicago. He filled it with costly furniture and pictures, and, to please his first wife, a devout Catholic, built a private chapel, in which services were said daily.

He lived in happiness until one day his wife eloped with the chaplain. He did not recover his spirts until he left his West Side palace and found consolation with a second wife, a girl of rare beauty, who had been the helpmeet of Sam Barclay, the ballplayer.

Mrs. McDonald went hopelessly insane last night and failed to recognize her husband.

It's for Croup, that's all. Sold by E. S. Leadbeater & Sons, druggists.

Mrs. Bassett Collapses.

For the sixth day Mrs. Fannie Rice Bassett yesterday had the witness stand in her divorce suit in Omaha. She appears completely exhausted and on the verge of a collapse. On Wednesday, after court, Mrs. Bassett fell in a faint and remained unconscious for two hours.

After an hour of cross-examination yesterday Mrs. Bassett gave way and was carried into a private room. A physician was called and the attorney took up other matters.

Chester Bassett, but ten years old, was put on the stand, but was ruled off temporarily. It was intended to show by the boy cruelty on the part of Bassett.

Bassett is in Omaha, but has not yet appeared in court. He remains in his rooms.

"I'm through work and on my road to h——," Bassett wrote to his wife when he started from Ogdensburg, N. Y., to Washington. When Mrs. Bassett recovered sufficiently to resume the stand, she told of having letters between herself and Mr. Bassett pass through the hands of Rev. Mr. Hunt. This was after the separation, but before divorce proceedings had begun.

Just before noon Mrs. Bassett was dismissed from the stand, but she will be recalled before the end of the case.

Rev. E. Lawrence Hunt testified that he was at one time secretary in New York city of the Young Men's Christian Association, also secretary of the international committee of the Y. M. C. A. He met the Bassetts at the church of which he was pastor in Washington. Mr. Hunt told of the visit to the Bassetts on Christmas evening, when the first break occurred between him and Bassett, subsequently as Mrs Bassett had related the incident.

Senator Bailey Cross-examined.

The Bailey investigation at Austin, Texas, took a more lively phase last night when the cross-examination of Senator Bailey by the prosecution was begun. Mr. Bailey objected to being cross-examined by Representative Cocke, who filed the charges against him. The committee sustained the objection, and the questioning was done by Judge Poindexter, who was employed to represent the prosecution.

Mr. Bailey testified that he paid back to H. C. Pierce the $3,300 which he borrowed from him in St. Louis in 1900. This loan was obtained at his first meeting with Pierce, and it was repaid through David R. Francis. The loan drew no interest, he said. He afterward drew a draft on Mr. Pierce for $1,500.

Bailey said that he could not account for these loans appearing upon the books of the Waters-Pierce Oil Company.

Bailey admitted that he drew the charter for the Security Oil Company, a Texas concern, which is known to be subsidiary to the Standard Oil Company. For this he received a fee of $5,000.

The Limit of Life.

The most eminent medical scientists are unanimous in the conclusion that the generally accepted limitation of human life is many years below the minimum possible with the advanced knowledge of which the race is now possessed. The critical period that determines its duration, seems to be between 50 and 60; the proper care of the body during this decade cannot be too strongly urged; carelessness then being fatal to longevity. Nature's best helper after 50 is Electric Bitters, the scientific tonic medicine that revitalizes every organ of the body. Guaranteed by E. S. Leadbeater, & Sons, druggists.

NABOB PANCAKE FLOUR, ready to use, just received by J. C. MILBURN.

Alexandria Gazette
SIC SEMPER TYRANNIS
AND VIRGINIA ADVERTISER

FRIDAY EVENING, FEB. 22 1907.

THE PEOPLE of Alexandria, the city of George Washington, today celebrated the 175th anniversary of the birth of that illustrious chieftain, as has long been their custom. While the parade feature was, for proper reasons, omitted this year, the George Washington Birthday Association, which organization during recent years has had the celebration in charge, has worked assiduously in the past few weeks to augment the patriotism always manifest in this city when the 22d of February draws nigh. The organization conceived other features equally interesting, all of which have been enjoyed both by participants and spectators. The services at historic Christ Church was an appropriate number of the programme. The old edifice in which Washington worshipped was not only attended by Alexandrians but many visitors were present who enjoyed the services as well as the realization of the fact that they were gazing at the same surroundings upon which Washington looked over a hundred years ago. The custom of placing a wreath upon the tomb of the father of his country was another appropriate feature, which, with the preceding, imparted a memorial service sentiment to the exercises of the day. The inspiring band music in front of Christ Church was another pleasant incident of the day. The grand banquet in the afternoon and the patriotic speeches at its termination were the closing scenes of the day. The curtain, however, will be rung up again tonight when Alexandria-Washington Lodge of Masons shall have convened. The members of the lodge, those of Andrew Jackson Lodge and all other members of the craft who may be present will be called from labor to refreshment and a regal collation will be spread. More patriotic addresses will be delivered, and it will be nearing midnight when the curtain shall have fallen upon the last act of the celebration of 1907.

REPRESENTATIVE TAWNEY, who, as chairman of the committee on appropriations, is in a better position than any other man in Congress to know the exact financial condition of this country, startled the members of the House yesterday afternoon when he told them that, as the result of the unprecedented size of the appropriations already made this year and yet remaining to be made in the closing days of the session, there was every liklihood that the treasury would show a deficit next year of at least one hundred millions. He pointed out that the total estimates for running the government next year, made at the beginning of the session by the Secretary of the Treasury, had footed up $895,000,000. This estimate, vast as it was, had already been surpassed by $22,000,000 in five appropriation bills, and that six more remained to be passed. Mr. Tawney pointed out that there was every liklihood that the appropriations already made and yet to be made before Congress adjourns would amount to over $900,000,000. The estimated revenues of the government on the most liberal basis of the figures of the treasury's experts would not be more than $800,000,000, so that it was clear that the government must prepare itself for a deficit of $100,000,000 next year. The warning of Mr. Tawney will have no effect on the republican leaders in Congress, however, and they will go right along spending the public money which they gather from the people by means of the high tariff laws.

THE ANNUAL FARCE was enacted in the Senate today when the Senators (or a few of them) listened to the reading by one of their members of Washington's Farewell Address. Then they kept right along in utter disregard of nearly every suggestion made by Washington.

From Washington.

Washington, Feb. 22.

President and Mrs. Roosevelt will celebrate the national holiday by starting for Massachusetts this afternoon where they plan to spend two days visiting their sons, Theodore jr., at Harvard, and Kermit, at Groton. Mr. and Mrs. Nicholas Longworth and Miss Ethel Roosevelt will accompany the President and Mrs. Roosevelt on the trip. Assistant Secretary and Mrs. Latta will also be members of the party. Two secret service men will as usual guard the Executive upon the journey. The President's private car will be attached to the Federal express which leaves Washington at 5:35 p. m. and is due to arrive in Boston at 7 a. m. The return trip will be begun at 8 p. m. Sunday and the party will arrive at the capital in time for breakfast Monday morning. No public functions will be attended by the President on his visit to Harvard and Groton and it is his desire to make the trip as quietly and unostentatiously as possible. He will make an address Saturday afternoon at Harvard Union, to which will be admitted only the students and alumni of the university, and later in the day will attend a meeting of the old and exclusive Porcellion Club to witness the invitation of his son "Ted." The President's son will be inducted into the club with all the frills and furbelows which usually accompany an initiation. Saturday night the President and his immediate party will be the guests of Dr. W. S. Bigelow, an old schoolmate of the executive, at the latter's home on Beacon street. At about 10 o'clock on Sunday morning a special train will leave Boston with the presidential party bound for Groton where Kermit is preparing himself for Harvard.

England's Ambassador the Right Honorable James Bryce, will be received formally by President Roosevelt early next week. The Ambassador and Mrs. Bryce are stopping at Stoneleigh Court.

President Roosevelt passed a rather busy holiday. In the morning he shook hands with a score or more of visitors, signed a number of bills, among them being the diplomatic bill the first of the great appropriation measures to reach his desk, and held conferences with a number of Senators and members of the House. In the afternoon he shook hands with 150 members of the naval league.

There will be no further hearings on the Brownsville affair this week. One or two witnesses will be heard on Monday and then further taking of testimony will be postponed until after March fourth.

Believing that it could best honor the memory of Washington by considering on the anniversity of his birthday, legislation for the good of the country, Congress remained at work today. All the government departments, however were closed. The House considered some 350 private pension bills, after having disagreed to the Senate's amendments to the bill giving the government the right of appeal in criminal cases, and sending the measure to conference.

No night session was held last night to consider ship subsidy. Representative Grosvenor, the chairmen of the House committed on Merchant Marine and Fisheries, advised strongly against night sessions on the subsidy bill this week, and suggested that the bill be considered next Monday in the House.

Secretary Taft has announced his purpose of paying another visit to Cuba to look for himself into conditions there and compare them with those last fall. The Secretary will make this trip early in April next, stopping at Havana on his voyage to or from the Isthmus, whichever may be more convenient.

The House committee on interstate and foreign commerce today favorably passed upon the Towsend bill which empowers the President to appoint a commission to inquire into and make public the causes of all dispute between labor and capital which affect interstate commerce of the transpotation of the United States mail.

William P. Kates, an engineer on the Pennsylvania Railroad, who fell from the foot rail of his cab last night in the freight yard here, died at the Emergency Hospital at 3:15 this morning His skull was fractured. He was 35 years of age and resided in Wilmington, Delaware.

THE THAW TRIAL.

The cross-examination through which District Attorney Jerome put Mrs. Harry K. Thaw yesterday was a more severe ordeal than the recital of her great wrong at the hands of White.

He drew from her the admission that she continued her relations with White after the fateful experience.

She was made to admit she had received money from White and Thaw at the same time; that she went to Parisian resorts and other places with Thaw, and that while she was in Europe telegrams were sent to White asking him to use his influence with a certain man to prevent Mrs. Holman from "making a fuss" about Thaw.

In answer to questions she confessed that she saw nothing wrong in her life until Thaw made it plain to her in Paris.

Evelyn Thaw declared Stanford White's personality affected her and that she was drawn toward him against her will and by the urging of her mother.

She corrected her statement that White had given her champagne she believed to be drugged, stating that it tasted like ordinary wine.

Jerome made her admit she had lived in a hotel in New York and in a castle abroad with Thaw.

White sent remittances to Mrs. Holman and Evelyn Nesbit while they were in Europe with Thaw. They quarreled, the mother going to London, while Thaw and Evelyn Nesbit traveled on the Continent.

Mrs. Thaw admitted that in 1903, after the return from Europe, she spent the night, at Thaw's apartment in New York and that for three weeks he and she occupied connecting apartments at the Grand Hotel, in that city.

The Name of Frances Belmont, then Florodora girl, now Lady Ashburton, was brought into the case. She was at a Paris resturant with Thaw party.

At the close of the most eventful day of the trial Mr. Jerome announced that he probably would keep Mrs. Thaw under fire for two more days.

Jerome threatened to take legal steps to make Lawyer Hartridge produce letters written by Stanford White and which Jerome wants in evidence.

The trial was adjourned until Monday

The Strothers Trial.

Postponement of the trial of the case of James A. and Philip J. Strother, charged with killing William F. Bywaters on December 15 last, which began in the Circuit Court in Culpeper yesterday, was averted by counsel for the defense agreeing at the opening of the proceedings to produce the widow of the murdered man in open court when her testimony is desired.

This act on the part of the defense settles a much-mooted question bearing on the case, and means that after the recess, which was ordered until Monday to allow a jury to be procured from another county, the case will proceed, without interruption, to a speedy conclusion.

Sheriff Bowersett, of Culpeper, arrived in Woodstock, yesterday evening to summons fifty veniremen of Shenandoah county from whom a jury will be selected. The veniremen will be from New Market, Mount Jackson, Edinburg, Woodstock, and Strasburg.

A great legal battle is anticipated. The commonwealth insists that the Strother brothers are guilty of deliberate murder, while the defense apparently entertains no fears.

The steamer Marion, bound for Beaufort, South Carolina, with a full passenger list and a valuable cargo, caught fire today, while off Youngs Island. he was run to a landing where the crew sank the vessel to save her from the flames. Four passenger, negroes, were drowned.

News of the Day.

James Bryce, the new British Ambassador to the United States, was welcomed on his arrival at Washington yesterday.

A dispatch from Paris says that Ambassador Tower has been recalled to Washington to explain his presentation of Harry Lehr to the German Court.

Mrs. Seabrowski, wife of Peter Seabrowski, a Polish miner at Fort Ridge, Ky., yesterday gave birth to five children, three girls and two boys. All are living.

Investigation shows that the report stated yesterday of the assassination of the Czar was based upon the arrest of several suspicious personage near Tsarskoe Selo.

Senator Smoot, of Utah, is the happiest man in the Senate and was the recipient of many messages of congratulation upon the fight he won in the Senate yesterday.

John D. Rockefeller's business representative says the oil king's fortune is not over $800,000,000; his income not over $20,000,000 a year and his holdings in the Standard only 20 per cent. of the total capital stock.

Unemployed, homeless, just released from jail and refused a refuge by his wife, who is suing him for divorce, John Holmes, 62 years old, swallowed carbolic acid and died on the back porch of his wife's home, in Cleveland, Ohio His wife thought he was drunk, and summoned the police who found him dead.

The entire time of the Senate yesterday was consumed in the further consideration of the agricultural bill, with continued criticism of the Forestry Bureau. The House considered the sundry civil appropriation bill during the afternoon and evening. The new Bureau of Engraving building was authorized.

President Cornelius P. Shea, of the International Brotherhood of Teamsters and his fellow-defendants, who have been on trial on a charge of conspiracy committed during the teamsters' strike against the department stores in Chicago two years ago, were found not guilty by a jury in the Criminal Court last night.

Leaving two notes behind to explain his action, one addressed to Coroner Jermon and the other to a friend, Harry P. Crowell, a former common councilman from the Twentieth ward, committed suicide in Philadelphia yesterday. It is supposed that the recent election caused him to brood over the reversal of his own fortunes.

Virginia News.

Mrs. L. D. Knight, widow of Wm. Knight, died yesterday at her home near Mount, Stafford county, aged 87 years. Three daughters and two sons survive her.

Mr. Julian Payne died at his home in New Orleans recently. He was the sixth son of the late Inman H. Payne, of Warrenton. He married a daughter of Col. Marshall Smith and was for years the confidental adversor and manager of Col. Smith's business in New Orleans, at whose death he became the principal owner.

Deserting his wife and four young children in destitute circumstances, Thomas Luttrell, a Frederick county farmer, thirty-five years of age, is missing. Miss Lunie Weakley, a pretty girl of sixteen, the daughter of B. F. Weakley, of that county, disappeared at the same time. The local police are trying to find the husband and bring him back to Frederick county.

Jos. Echols was convicted at Chatham yesterday of the murder of Walter Barksdale and was given fourteen years in the penitentiary. The killing was the result of a prearranged duel The men, who were both well-known farmers of the county, quarreled at a store over a package of cigarettes. Angry words followed and they agreed to return to their homes and get their guns and shoot it out. A short time afterward they met in the road and each opened fire.

Sometime ago Harold Dowell and his wife, of Warrenton, separated and divorce proceedings were pending. Monday night she came into his store and after some conversation shot herself through the left shoulder. The ball missed the heart and inflicted a wound from which it is thought she will recover. Both husband and wife are well thought of in the community and it is hoped that their quarrel, having come so near a tragedy will terminate in a reconciliation.

Inquiries made in Richmond of the rumor that Jamestown Island had been sold to Mr. D. R. Cruey, of that city, and some Norfolk associates, show that the report is untrue. Apparently negotiations have been in progress but Mr. Cruey is sick at home and asked to be excused from making any statement at this time. Mr. J. G. Rogers, president of the New York, Philadelphia and Norfolk railroad, who is a son-in-law of Mrs. Barney, owner of the island, who has control of the property, says: In answer to a telegram, "Jamestown has not been sold."

Mrs. May Sentenced.

After hearing arguments by attorney Creed Fulton, counsel for Mrs. Jennie L. May, who was convicted of assault with intent to kill Lucien Conen, and overruling the motion for a new trial, Justice Stafford, in Washington, yesterday afternoon sentenced Mrs. May to ten years in the penitentiary. Before he pronounced the sentence, Justice Stafford said:

"I need not say that this case has weighed heavily on my conscience since the verdict of the jury was rendered It has been argued that it is her first offense, and it may be even said that it would probable never be repeated. But the most important consideration is the public welfare. The legislature has said that the maximum penalty for the crime is fifteen years. The maximum is for aggravated cases. This seems to be a case of cool deliberation, and the jury has said that she was sane when she committed the crime. The responsibility is not with the court, but rests with the person who commits the crime. She selected to go out and kill. That is the time she should have thought of herself, her children, and her husband. It is not for this court to consider her husband and children; she did not consider them. We do not know in what measure Conen was to blame; she has made it impossible for him to be here and testify; she has silenced his voice and sealed his lips."

GOVERNOR SWANSON OPPOSES CONFERENCE.

In a letter written Wednesday afternoon to Rev. Dr. John E. White, of Atlanta, projector of the negro conference commission, Gov. Swanson not only expressed himself as opposed to the purpose of the conference, but, as stated yesterday, refused to appoint delegates from this State to attend the meeting.

For some time Dr. White has been agitating this question in the several southern States. It has been his purpose to hold a conference for the discussion of the negro question, which he claims could, in all probability, be satisfactorily settled.

The gist of the governor's reply is embodied in three principles—first, the appointment of the delegates would be an admission of unsatisfactory conditions; second no body of men, however selected, could settle a question of which the local conditions are so varied, and third, that it has been shown that those confessing great interest in the matter are more troubled with the "question" than the southern people are with the negro.

"All intermarriages between the two races are prohibited and severely punished by law. With firmness and fairness Virginia has for the present settled the matter of the negro question affecting this State and is now in an era of unexampled prosperity and progress.

"* * * The very creation of this commission would precipitate at once, throughout this nation, a discussion of the question in papers, in pulpits and in politics; and when this would end, and what the result would be, no person is wise enough to forecast.

"Your suggestion, that unless the South creates this commission, Congress will do so, has no weight.

"The State of Virginia has dealt and continues to deal generously, fairly and justly with the negro. It has been estimated that since the civil war Virginia has expended nearly $17,000,000 for the education of negroes. With unsurpassed self-denial, the white people of Virginia, out of their own poverty, have endeavored to educate two races.

"* * * I believe the South has already been seriously injured by too much discussion and agitation of the negro question. The conditions in the various southern States are so diverse that they must be handled separately, according to the wisdom of each State We have uniformly insisted that this was a domestic question, affecting the prosperity and civilization of local communities, and should be handled as such. I am unwilling, even indirectly, to recede from this position, which I conceive to be founded in justice, in wisdom and in our constitutional right.

"Since the receipt of your letter and your recent conversation with me, in which you fully discuss the proposition," says the governor's reply, "I have given the matter very thoughtful consideration, and have reached the conclusion that no good would accrue from the creation or work of such a commission. I can certainly see in Virginia no occasion for such a commission. The relations between the two races in this State are peaceful and friendly. No trouble exists that I am aware of. No negro who is industrious, law-abiding and contributes to the welfare of his community can make complaint of either the laws or the sentiments of the Virginia people. We have had no race troubles or riots. All of the proposed problems for discussion and solution by the commission have already been determined by the general assemblies of this State. There has been a complete separation of the two races in schools, public places, street and railway cars, and other public conveyances. The suffrage question has been determined with justice and fairness, and has ceased to be a subject of discussion or agitation.

"It seems to me that the best course for the South to pursue is for the local authorities in each State to meet this problem with justice, fairness and firmness, and settle it in a way that tends to the progress and prosperity of its best civilization.

"As there is no necessity for such a commission in Virginia, I cannot take action in the matter until I have received a request from the authorities of the other States to do so, and, if such a request is presented by the other southern States, it shall be given full and fair consideration, and you may rest assured that in the future, as in the past, Virginia will be found glady and harmoniously co-operating with her sister southern States."

Gravel for Jamestown Exposition.

While their is sand by the million yards on either hand at the Jamestown Exposition grounds there is no gravel to be had there, and the exposition authorities have had to look elsewhere for gravel for the walks and for other purposes. Gravel of a particular size is wanted for use in a composition roofing which is to be used on some of the buildings going up there, and thousands of yards of the little stones are being shipped from this city and other points on the river to the exposition pier. The schooner Grace C. Bennett, carrying about 400 tons of gravel taken from the beds in Piscataway creek, has completed landing here, and will sail for the exposition grounds within the next day or two. The schooner Mabel and Ruth is lying in the St. Mary's river taking aboard another large cargo of gravel for the exposition, and it is stated that several barge loads of the material will be sent from Alexandria to Hampton Roads as soon as the vessels to carry it can be chartered.

Carter Harrison Defeated.

Carter Harrison was all but wiped off the political map by the democratic voters of Chicago at yesterday's primaries.

Mayor Edward F. Dunne, aided by the lieutenants of Roger G. Sullivan, buried the Harrison clan out of sight. In nearly every ward where there was a straight contest between Dunne and Harrison, the former mayor "bit the dust."

Of the 967 delegates named in yesterday's primaries, the Harrison forces secured about 300. Most of these 300 went to Harrison by agreement. As the results indicated, Mayor Dunne might have taken half of these delegates away from Harrison if he had insisted on fighting in every ward in Chicago, as he had first planned.

At the Harrison headquarters at the Grand Pacific Hotel late last night Harrison's nomination was considered doubtful, although they were still hoping that the lightning might strike them.

The Ill-fated Steamer Berlin.

Rotterdam, Feb. 22.—One more passenger on the wrecked steamer Berlin, of the Great Eastern Railway, which went aground off the Hook of Holland yesterday morning, has been saved, making two persons known to have been rescued. Both survivors are in such a precarious condition that they may die, however.

Other passengers are still to be seen on the remnants of the broken after part of the vessel. All attempts to reach them have failed, as the gale which caused the wreck is still blowing and the sea is mountainous. It is not known whether the figures on the wreck are alive or not, If any of the passengers have survived so far their suffering must have been terrible.

Thirty-four bodies have been washed ashore. These victims are laid out in the sheds of the Hamburg-American line pier awaiting identification.

London, Feb. 22 —The Central News announces that ten persons have been saved in the wreck of the steamer Berlin, off the Hook of Holland.

London, Feb. 22 —A thrilling tale of attempts to rescue persons on the ill-fated steamer Berlin, wrecked yesterday off the Hook of Holland, is told by officers of the steamer Clackton, of the Great Eastern Railway Company, which arrived off the Hook about an hour after the Berlin struck.

She returned to Harwich today. The Clackton stood by the Berlin for hours trying to effect rescues, but without getting off a single person.

The Clackton found the Berlin broadside on at the pier end. It was flood tide and the waves were forty feet high with a fierce gale blowing in shore. In approaching too close to the wreck, the Clackton was nearly driven on the rocks and had to put out to sea. She returned and from a distance of 100 yards threw out her life belts with lines attached, but they would not reach the doomed vessel

At times the wreck went clear out of sight of the Clackton as huge waves broke over her, burying even the masts.

Many passengers were seen sheltered under what protection offered on the lee side of the Berlin. They raised a cheer when the Clackton approached. Discipline seemed to prevail.

The Thaw Trial.

New York, Feb. 22.—According to a story published here today Evelyn Nesbit Thaw is to receive $800,000 at the conclusion of the trial of her husband, regardless of its outcome, in return for baring her soul on the witness stand.

Immediately following the arrest of Harry Thaw, says the story, Evelyn, frightened, prepared to flee to Europe to avoid the searchlight of publicity which began sweeping the Tenderloin within two hours after Stanford White died. The Thaw family and attorneys, believing that she alone could save her husband from the chair, drew up an agreement by which the girl was to receive $300,000 on the day the trial was concluded, on condition she remain within the jurisdiction of the court.

The court adjournment of today and tomorrow, has doubtless proved a godsend to Evelyn Thaw.

At the Loraine today it is reported that she has in a measure recovered her composure, but from a private source it is learned that the girl is really on the verge of nervous break down, and there is good reason for fear that she may give way under the strain, and be unable to return to the stand.

Even though she does, master herself by Monday, it is the great fear of her husband's attorneys that in her extreme nervous state she may become confused and allow herself to be entangled in the cross-examination.

Honduras and Nicaragua.

San Salvador, Feb. 22 - Central America's latest comic opera war between Honduras and Nicaragua, seems today to be in a state of abeyance. A long intermission is promised after a very short act.

Accurate information as to the exact status of hostilities is difficult to obtain. The scene closed with a Nicaraguan army commanded by Generals Vasquez and Fornos, reported from Nicaragua sources as having invaded Honduras.

But there has been no further report since this army crossed the frontier. The only battle fought so far, as known, was February 18, and there is considerable doubt as to its real outcome, both sides claiming the victory.

However, if war is to follow, fighting must come within a few days. Already steps are being taken at Washington, according to advices received here, to force the two nations to arbitrate.

If arbitration is to come both sides will be anxious to secure what victories they can, so as to command the better position before the arbitration board.

Sympathy for Mrs. Wallau.

New York, Feb. 22.—It was only with the greatest difficulty that Mrs. Leopold Wallau, now held in $50,000 bail for the alleged poisoning of her mother, to put her out of her misery, from cancer, restrained her friends from holding a mass meeting today to protest against what they called the persecution of Mrs. Wallau.

Plans were completed for a public demonstration in Carnegie Hall, today against the persecution of the District Attorney's office of Mrs. Wallau. When the accused woman and her family heard of it, they went to the ringleaders and made urgent request that the meeting be not held. It was called off.

The assistant District Attorney Corrigan is today searching for the author of anonymous letters he has received in connection with the Wallau case. They are said to contain accusations which will be of value to him.

Supposed Suicide.

Cincinnati, O., Feb. 22.—"I can't stand this slavery any longer," Chas. W. Snook told his sweetheart, Norma Eichler, a few days ago. For four years Snook has worked at $35 monthly in the N. & W. and B. & O., Bond Hill Crossing Railroad tower with neither days nor nights off. Even his wooing was done there. He could not leave his post to visit her home. A train whistled at Snook's block early today. There was no answering flash of light and the train crew broke in the door. Snook was dead a bullet in his head and his revolver by his side. The police think he took his life.

More Earthquake Shocks in Jamaica.

Kingston, Jamaica, Feb. 22 —Heavy earthquake shocks today spread terror over the entire island. In Kingston people fell to their knees in the streets praying. This is the hundred and seventh distinct shock since the great quake of January 14, and their continuation is adding to the report among the ignorant natives that the bottom of the island is being destroyed and that before E ster Sunday the topmost peak of the blue mountains will be under the sea. The blacks were in a state of excitement, which had been heightened by scientists who are making balloon ascensions, and the shock nearly drove them mad. Damaged walls fell and one practically new brick structure erected on a damaged foundation, crumbled. Reports from all sections say the shock was felt. No fatalities have been reported so far.

Celebrating Washington's Birthday.

Chicago, Feb. 22.—Washington's birthday is being celebrated here with unusual eclat. Schools and social organizations have secured the attendance of distinguished non-residents to lend dignity to the exercises. Chief among these is Grover Cleveland.

Instead of the jovial face and portly carriage of former visits, the former President's countenance speaks of weariness. His step is unsteady. Mrs. Cleveland's watchful care is ever in evidence. He spent the forenoon at the school children's celebration at the auditorium At 3 p. m. Mr. Cleveland, under the Union League auspices, delivers the principal address of the days celebration at the auditorium. Tonight he will be the guest of honor at the club banquet.

The President's Visit to Boston.

Boston, Feb., 22.—When President Roosevelt and his party arrive here, whether it is tonight or tomorrow morning, they will go to the home of Dr. and Mrs. Sturgis Bigelow, where they will be guests during their stay. Saturday morning, or a large part of it, the President will spend with his son at his rooms, No. 20 Dunster Hall, in Cambridge. It is believed that while in Cambridge the President will attend the wedding of Matthew Hale and Miss Nancy Pierce, which will occur tomorrow. Mr. Hale is related through his mother, who was a Boston Lee, to the President's first wife. He is intimate with the Roosevelt family, having spent a year at the White House as the tutor of Theodore Roosevelt jr.

Woman Accuses Professor.

New York, Feb. 22.—Francis Palmieri, professor of languages, was held in $300 bail in police court today for examination on Monday on a charge similar to that on which Caruso, the Metropolitan Opera House tenor, was convicted. Mrs Delia Murphy was the accuser. She charged Palmieri with making an improper remark and placing his hand on her in a Bowery auction store. Thomas Murphy, son of the complainant, who happened to be on the scene, gave Palmieri a whipping, traces of which were very evident when he was arraigned.

Says Husband Deceived Her.

Chicago, Feb. 22.—Charging that her husband, the late John Warner, of Clinton, deceived her as to the size of his fortune and thereby induced her to sign an ante-nuptial agreement waiving her interest in his estate, Mrs. Isabelle Warner has sued her step-son, Commissioner of Pensions Vespasian Warner, and others to set the agreement aside and get her share of the fortune. John Warner left property worth nearly $1,750,000. He was many years his wife's senior.

Elopers Married.

Burlington, Iowa, Feb 22.—Warren Beckwith, former football star and professional ball player, who last week secured a divorce from Jessie Lincoln Beckwith, daughter of Robert T. Lincoln and granddaughter of President Abraham Lincoln, was married here last night to Blanche Julia Cutler, of Aurora, Ills., after an elopemont from the bride's home.

Church Wrecked by Dynamite.

Sandford, Ind, Feb. 22.—A dynamite explosion completely wrecked the Methodist Church and the general stores of S. W. Reese and Schickle & Johnson early today. Citizens think the dynamiting was in revenge for a raid on an alleged "blind-tiger" liquor shop by a sheriff's posse Thursday. It was at this point that a passenger train was blown up several weeks ago.

O'Shea and his Associates Free.

Chicago, Feb. 22 —Cornelius H. O'Shea, and his eleven coliabor leaders are free, following their second trial for conspiracy in connection with the teamsters' strike of 1905 During the strike nineteen men were killed and hundreds stabbed, slugged, and beaten. Commerce was tied up and millions of dollars lost.

Terrorists Rob Postoffice.

Warsaw, Feb., 22 —Terrorists made a successful attack on a branch postoffice, today and escaped with a considerable amount of cash after shooting a clerk and soldier and wounding nine other persons. There were fifteen men in the terrorist band and they completely cowered the postoffice employes with their weapons.

Thinks he Deserve Credit.

"I am surprised at my own toleration. I think I deserve the greatest credit for not taking a shotgun and going out and shooting those who so infamously slander me," said Senator Bailey before the investigating committee in Austin, Texas, today.

The Metropolitan for March, which has been received from its publishers in New York, reaches a high standard of magazine publication. The first instalment of the "The Mexican War" begins what gives promise of being a fascinating history of a romantic period of our country's growth. "The Fur Seal Fisheries" tells of the crime against the seal. "Motor Boating" is of interest, and an article on "Hypnotism" is of importance. "The World at Large" gives the history-making events of the month, and the fiction of this issue is of high grade, and is well chosen.

Fifty-ninth Congress.

Washington, Feb. 22.

SENATE.

Washington's birthday was observed in the Senate by the delivery of an appropriate prayer by the Chaplain, Rev. Edw. Everett Hale, and the reading of the farewell address by Mr. Burkett. The public galleries were filled to overflowing.

The Senate agreed to the conference report on the legislative, executive and judicial appropriation bill after an explanation by Mr. Cullom. He said that the salary increase provision had been retained intact and that although there had been stricken out all specific reference to the cotton investigation abroad, there was an understanding with the Secretary of Commerce and Labor that the department should continue that work, now in progress.

The Military Academy appropriation bill was reported to the Senate It carries a total appropriation of $1,947 883 which is $33,400 more than as passed by the House. The Senate added an item of $6,000 for subsistence of cadets while attendin the Jamestown Exposition. The bill will be taken up in the Senate at tonight's session.

The Senate referred to the committee on judiciary the Dubois resolution, directing that committee to draft a constitutional amendment, prohibiting polygamy in the United States.

When the Senate resumed consideration today of the agricultural appropriation bill, an amendment was adopted requiring the Secretary of Agriculture to submit each year a detail estimate upon every subject of expenditure within his department, also one upon the detailed expenditures of the entire department for the previous year. This is aimed at the forestry bureau.

HOUSE.

After filibustering for more than a day, Mr. Clarke (dem. Florida) got the floor today to discuss his resolution for the sale of the Philippine Islands to Japan. When he made a motion to have the committee on insular affairs discharged from further consideration of his resolution, he caught the republican leaders napping. He spoke for an hour on his resolution. The republicans sought to lay the motion on the table, but the democrats took it upon themselves to block legislation by requiring a roll call.

The motion to lay on the table the resolution for information about the Philippines looking toward their sale to Japan, was adopted by a strictly party vote on a roll call

American Methods Attacked.

Lord Glenesk's paper, the London Morning Post, the organ of the aristocracy and of financial interests in London, publishes a long editorial savagely denouncing American financial morals. It says: "It is becoming a grave question whether Americans are morally capable of conducting great industrial enterprises. Their genius for organization, their perseverance, their speculative hardihood are qualties which nobody disputes. Where they fail is because they have not yet developed an adequate sense of responsibility to the public, to the State and to some other code higher than Wall street and the counung house."

Washington's Birthday.

The weather today, though cold, has otherwise been ideal for a holiday, and although there has been no street parade, the other features in connection with the celebration of Washington's birthday have been equally as interesting.

While the business of the city has in no sense been suspended, there have been many things to impart a holiday aspect to the day, the many flags especially giving the city a holiday appearance. A large number of people have abstained from their usual avocations. The banks and public offices were closed and the postoffice observed Sunday hours. The public and private schools have been closed, and the younger generation bedecked themselves with badges, flaunted flags and in other ways manifested evidences of delight.

Many of their seniors have also been animated by the spirit of the occasion, and have enjoyed the holiday and the features in connection therewith.

The anniversary of Washington's birthday has ever appealed to Alexandrians, and while much of the extravagance of former of years has been omitted, the patriotism manifested on other anniversaries has been equally in evidence today.

The first feature of the day was the animation about McBurney's Hall, where the tables for the grand banquet this afternoon had been spread. The decorations were profuse, suggestive and appropriate and Rammel Brothers, who were the caterers, left nothing undone that could in any way have rendered the banquet hall any more inviting. As might have been expected, a large picture of Washington adorned the wall. The tables had been tastefully spread and everything prepared in the most tempting manner.

At 10:30 o'clock the following committee appointed to place a wreath upon the tomb of Washington at Mount Vernon met at the rooms of the Chambers of Commerce and left on a special car half an hour later to perform that mission:

Mayor Frederick J. Paff, former Mayor E. E. Downham, Charles B. Marshall, Col. K. Kemper, Peter von de Westelaken, R. M. Graham, Harry Hammond, George P. Aitcheson, O. H Kirk, Thomas Chauncey, W. R. Hamilton, R. S. Jones, Joseph Colvin, Judge R. T. W. Duke, William A. Smoot, jr., John H. Trimyer, T. C. Howard, Julian Y. Williams, A. D. Brockett, Maj. William M. Smith, Capt. R. M. Latham and William MacA. Green. The committee was transported in the palace car "Mount Vernon."

The wreath was placed on the tomb by Messrs. J. Y. Williams and R. S Jones, members of the Birthday Association. Messrs. J. Fletcher Bunnell and Wm. C. Howell, of the Masonic Lodge at Blairsville, N. J., accompanied the committee. The party were the guests of Mr. Jos. Colvin, superintendent of the electric road, who entertained them in a royal manner.

At noon the bells on the public buildings of the city were rung, and about the same time the wreath of flowers was placed on the tomb of Washington.

The members of the City Council, a delegation from the Daughters of the American Revolution of the District of Columbia and many residents of this city attended services in Christ Church at 11 o'clock. These exercises, which were under the auspices of the local chapter of the Daughters of the American Revolution, were appropriate to the occasion. The address was delivered by Bishop Robert A. Gibson, of the Diocese of Virginia.

Shortly after the close of these services the Naval Gun Factory Band, of Washington, under the direction of Bandmaster Jacob G. Moody, began a series of concerts at the intersection of Cameron and Washington streets, where a stand had been erected. The following was the programme:

Match, "The Diplomat," John Philip Sousa; overture, "Tanhauser," Wagner; Concert waltz "Moonlight on the Hudson," Hermann; Trombone Solo, "World's Fair Polka," Marsh (Mr. Albert Schlenkes soloist); Grand Fantasia on "My Old Kentucky Home," Dalbey (variations for all instruments); Medley, "George Washington, jr.," Cohen; Grand American Fantasia, "America Forever," Theo Moses Tobani. After 45 minutes' intermission the concert was continued as follows: March, "Brooks Chicago Marine Band," Heitz; overture, "Poet and Peasant," F. von Suppe; waltz, "Golden Sunset," John T. Hall; Medley overture, "When the Whippowill Sings, Marguerite," Helf and Hager; selection from opera "Il Trovatore," Verdi; marche comique, "Old Settlers on Parade," Dalbey; finale, "Star Spangled Banner," Key.

At 3 o'clock the banqueters took their seats in McBurney's Hall and Rev. Dr. Fisher invoked a blessing. Music from the orchestra enlivened the scene and the mirth manifested was of the most lively nature. The hall was a veritable bower of beauty.

The following was the menu:

Oyster Cocktail a la Waldrof Martini
Pitted Olives French Peas Celery
Croquette Chicken with Truffle
Oysters en Petites Caisses a la Sefton

Chairman Brockett, of the George Washington Birthday Association, acted as toastmaster, and at the close of the feast the following toasts were responded to: "George Washington," Rev. Charles D. Bulla, pastor of the Washington street Methodist Episcopal Church South; "The Neighboring Counties," Judge Charles E. Nicol, of the Circuit Court; "Alexandria," Chas. C. Carlin, of this city; "Virginia," Judge R. T. W. Duke, of Charlottesville.

The officers of the George Washington Birthday Association are as follows:

Albert D. Brockett, president; W. A. Smoot jr., first vice president; John H Trimyer, second vice president; T. Clifton Howard, third vice president; Robert M. Graham, fourth vice president; P. von de Westelaken, fifth vice president; Harry Hammond, treasurer; Robert F. Green, assistant treasurer; Julian Y. Williams, secretary; W. McA. Green, assistant secretary.

Many persons visited the hall before the banquet began, and all concurred in the opinion that nothing had been neglected by the committee or the caterers.

During the afternoon many visitors from Washington and other neighboring cities were on the streets. Numbers were former Alexandrians, or relatives or friends of present residents.

The wreath which was taken to Mount Vernon was made by the Mrs. Kramer Floral Company, which also furnished the flowers, palms, &c., which decorated the banquet hall in the McBurney building.

The electric trains were crowded during the day by visitors to Mount Vernon.

Every arrangement has been made for the grand banquet to be given by Alexandria-Washington Lodge of Masons tonight. This banquet is always the closing feature of the services in connection with the celebration of the 22d of February in Alexandria. As is well-known, Washington was a vestryman of Christ Church and Worshipful Master of Alexandria-Washington Lodge.

Toasts will be responded to after the banquet as follows: "Alexandria-Washington Lodge, No. 22," Right Worshipful Dr. William M. Smith, of this city; "George Washington," Representative Charles A. Towne, of New York; "Liberty Lodge, of Beverly, Mass.," Eugene J. V. Huiginn, of Beverly, Mass.; "The Grand Lodge of Virginia," Most Worshipful Judge R T W. Duke, of Charlottesville; "The Old Dominion," Representative Harry D. Flood, of Roanoke; "Andrew Jackson Lodge," J. Johnston Green, of this city; "The Tenets of Free Masonry," Most Worshipful K. Kemper, of this city.

All the arrangements for the banquet to be given by the Columbia Fire Company tonight have been perfected, and an enjoyable time is anticipated. The banquet will be given at the engine house on south St. Asaph street. Among those who are expected to deliver addresses are Mayor Paff and Rev. J. A. Jeffers, of Trinity M. E. Church.

Benefit for Frank C. Bangs.

The independent managers gave a benefit for Frank C. Bangs, one of the veterans of the American stage, Tuesday afternoon, at the Casino. They gave Mr. Bangs $4,000 after it was over. Mr. Bangs himself was not only present, but he took part in the programme, delivering Mark Antony's oration from "Julius Cæsar" and winning applause from the crowded audience. The programme was opened by Mrs. Fiske, who read some graceful lines written for the occasion by Randolph Hartley. Henry Miller appeared in "Frederick Le Maitre," Miss Carlotta Nilson in the first act of "The Three of Us," Miss Anglin and William Courtleigh in a jolly one-act piece called "One Evening," and Mr. Sothern in the Queen's closet scene from "Hamlet," and Mme. Nazimova added the third act of "A Doll's House" and Miss Loftus and David Warfield contributed imitations and a monologue. Of course, one had to run a gantlet of pretty flower girls in the lobby.—[New York Tribune.

A Narrow Escape.

A gentleman, his wife and two children from a neighboring city who are visiting Officer Nicholson on upper Prince street had narrow escape from asphyxiation from coal gas at an early hour this morning. A stove had been replenished with coal, but by some oversight the draft in the pipe had been turned off. The odor of the gas attracted Officer Nicholson's attention when he entered the house, and upon making an examination he discovered that his guests were in a semi-conscious state. Dr. Delaney was summoned and he succeeded in reviving them.

Basketball.

The Alexandria Athletic Association Reserves basketball team defeated the Tanglewoods, of Washington, last night by the score of 32 to 1. The association will play the Capron Cadets, of Washington, tonight. The visitors will be entertained after the game by a dance.

The Alexandria Athletic Association basketball team will play the Randolph Macon Academy, of Front Royal, and the Vespers, of Washington, in a double-header Saturday night at 8:30 o'clock at their Hall on King street. A good game is promised to all who attend.

J. O. U. A.

Alexandria Council, No. 33, Junior Order United Americans, held a largely attended and interesting meeting last evening. Twenty applications for membership were received and referred to the committee for investigation. These applicants will be initiated on March 14th with a class of 50 to 100. Great progress is being made by Alexandria and Belle Haven Councils, and the meeting in March promises to be a great success. A special programme is being arranged for the occasion, and many prominent members of the order will be present.

Funeral.

The funeral of the late Thomas Hudson, whose death occurred Wednesday night, took place this afternoon from his late home, on north Fairfax street. The services were conducted by Rev. J. A. Jeffers, pastor of Trinity M. E Church. The funeral was attended by Sarepta Lodge of Odd Fellows and the Modern Woodmen of this city, the deceased having been a member of these organizations.

Free Nights at Corcoran Art Gallery.

Owing to the continued interest displayed in Washington in the Corcoran Gallery's exhibition of contemporary American paintings and in response to numerous requests, it has been determined by the director to open the gallery free to the public from 8 to 10 o'clock on the evenings of February 22 and 26, March 1, 5 and 8.

Argo Red Salmon can be served on any table. It can be served as it comes from the can, or prepared in many palatable dishes.

Colonial Tea.

A large number of people attended the colonial tea which was given last night in Confederate Veterans' hall by the young ladies of the Epworth League of the M. E. Church South for the benefit of the building fund of the young people's building, to be erected in connection with that church. The occasion was greatly enjoyed by all who attended the tea.

"Regular as the Sun" is an expression as old as the race. No doubt the rising and setting of the sun is the most regular performance in the universe, unless it is the action of the liver and bowels when regulated with Dr. King's New Life Pills. Guaranteed by E. S. Leadbeater & Sons, druggists, 25c.

Personal.

Judge Lewis C. Barley, of the Corporation Court of this city, says he is not a candidate for the position and would not accept appointment to the circuit bench to succeed Judge Nicol, who will resign when he opens his campaign for the nomination for the seat in Congress made vacant by the death of Representative Rixey.

Miss Dixie Lee Trenary and Mr. Edgar Brooke, both of this city, were married Wednesday afternoon at the parsonage of the First Baptist Church by Rev. Dr. W. F. Fisher, pastor.

Miss Leoma Sullivan and her sister, Flora, are visiting relatives and friends in Charlottesville.

Mrs. M. Letterman and daughter, of Charlottesville, are the guests of Mr. Mrs. Henry Strauss, on Prince street.

D. A. R.

Special services in commemoration of Washington's Birthday were held at Christ Church this morning at 11 o'clock under the auspices of Mount Vernon Chapter, D. A. R. A number of representatives from the several chapters of the Daughters from Washington were present and occupied seats specially set aside for them. Bishop Gibson delivered the address and Rev. Everard Meade, of Pohick Church, assisted the rector, Rev. W. J. Morton, in the services. A large congregation was present. Bishop Gibson took for his subject Washington as the product of his Virginia environment, and during his learned, eloquent and interesting address reviewed Washington as a patriarch, son, husband, soldier and churchman.

Insurance Appointments.

Mr. H. J. Grubb, who, for several years has been district superintendent of agencies for the Massachusetts Mutual Life Insurance Co., in this State, has been promoted to general agent of northern Virginia with head-quarters at Alexandria.

Mr. C. B. Richardson, of Harrisonburg, has been appointed general agent for southern Virginia, with headquarters at Richmond. Mr. F. W. Smallman, who, for the past eight years has been State manager, will be promoted to general superintendent of agencies and transferred to New York the first of March, when the above changes will go into effect.

New Norfolk Line.

The steamer Dreamland will be placed on the new line which is to be operated between Washington, Alexandria and Norfolk next summer. The Dreamland was built in Wilmington, Del., in 1878. She is of 1,285 gross tonnage; 978 net tonnage; is 272 feet 9 inches long; 37 feet beam; 10 feet 8 inches deep, and of 1,997 horse power. The Dreamland was orginally the Republic. Her name was later changed to "Cape May," and when she was acquired by the Coney Island Exhibition Company, she was renamed "Dreamland." She is a very fastboat.

Circuit Court for the County.

[Judge C. E. Nicol presiding.]

The cases of the three colored men—Kelly, Lewis and Hill—indicted last Monday for minor offenses, came up this morning. Kelly was acquitted and Lewis and Hill were sent to jail for three months.

Court adjourned till tomorrow.

How to Open a Can of Salmon

To open a can of Argo Red Salmon properly lay the can on its side, insert the can opener at the seam, then stand the can on end and, pressing the top firmly down, work the can opener around the top, removing the entire top. The Argo will then come out in one solid piece.

Use a little KODOL after your meals and it will be found to afford a prompt and efficient relief. KODOL nearly approximates the digestive juices. It digests what you eat. It is sold on a guaranteed relief plan. Sold here by W. F. Creighton & Co., 401 King street.

LOCAL BREVITIES.

The pump at the southeast corner of Wilkes and Pitt streets needs immediate attention.

The steamer Norfolk arrived up this morning an hour and a half late on account of head winds.

The firm of Schneider and Warfield have settled all their fire losses on north Alfred street, which occurred a week ago, amounting to $4,100.

There were no cases for trial in the Police Court this morning. Two tramps who had been arrested by Officers Jones and Nicholson for vagrancy were liberated upon promising to leave the city.

The weather grew cloudy and cold again early last night. Snow began to fall about five o'clock this morning, but the heavens soon became clear. The mercury at seven o'clock stood at 25°.

An electric train collided with a wagon belonging to a Washington bakery at the intersection of King and Royal streets about noon today. The only damage which resulted was the breaking of a pane of glass in a window of one of the cars.

As is often the case when the number of visitors to Mount Vernon is increased, strangers tossed nickels into crowds of boys who gathered at intersections of streets where electric trains passed today. Many urchins were at Prince and Royal streets this afternoon scrambling for coins which were tossed from car windows.

Mr. Geo. K. Bender will have in market tomorrow a fine lot of home-dressed Turkeys and Chickens. Home-dressed Boston Market Lettuce, Radishes, Florida Tomatoes, California Beets and other fresh vegetables. Bell 'phone 156.

"Everybody should Know"

says C. G. Hays, a prominent business man of Bluff, Mo., that Bucklen's Arnica Salve is the quickest and surest healing salve ever applied to a sore, burn or wound, or to a case of piles. I've used it and I know what I'm talking about.' Guaranteed by E. S. Leadbeater & Sons, druggists.

Piles get quick relief from Dr. Shoop's Magic Ointment. Remember it's made alone for piles—and it works with certainty and satisfaction. Itching, painful, protruding, or blind piles disappear like magic by its use. Try it and see! For sale by E. S. Leadbeater & Sons, druggists.

Recaptured.

A. J. Gregory, C. P. Pitt and L. E. Rivenback, who broke out of jail at Petersburg, early Wednesday morning, by sawing their way out of a second-story window and lowering themselves to freedom on an improvised "bridge" of bed-slats and sides suspended from blankets, were captured in Norfolk yesterday.

Gregory when arrested was found to have upon him a large bunch of railroad switch keys. It is reported by one of the men who remained in the cell that the saws were brought in by a sailor recently imprisoned there. Pitts and Rivenback were visited several days ago by two young women strangers, said to be from Richmond, who manifested great desire to see the prisoners. They were allowed an interview in the presence of a jail official. It is declared that there are 120 charges against Pitt and Rivenback for soliciting for the Ladies' Home Journal in Richmond under false pretences.

Release on Bail.

Mrs. Lottie Wallau, after being discharged by the coroner in New York yesterday, was immediately rearrested by order of the District Attorney, and was arraigned before Magistrate Finn, in the Tombs Police Court, charged with the murder of her mother, Mrs. Ida Binge. Magistrate Finn held her for examination next Thursday afternoon. Meanwhile, the district attorney's office, in consultation with Mrs. Wallau's counsel, had consented that the prisoner be admitted to bail. As a magistrate cannot accept bail in a homicide case, Mrs. Wallau was taken before Supreme Court Justice Gierich, and bail was fixed at $50,000, counsel for both sides agreeing. She was then released.

AUCTION SALES.

PURSUANT TO DECREE OF THE CIRCUIT COURT, of Fairfax county, Va., in the suit of Greenfield vs. Kerby, therein pending, the undersigned commissioner of sale will about 12 o'clock (noon), on THURSDAY,
the 14 day of March, 1907,
offer for sale at public auction, in front of the Market House (Royal street entrance), in the city of Alexandria, Va., that track of land located in Mt. Vernon magisterial district, Fairfax county, Va., containing 85 acres (family graveyard reserved), being part of the old Samuel Collard real estate. The land is improved by dwelling house, barn and other buildings, and orchard. The land is of good quality and the location is exceptionally good, being a public road leading to Alexandria city and about 3½ miles south of said city. It is valuable for trucking or as a dairy farm.
Terms of sale:
One-third cash and the residue in two equal payments at six and twelve months from the day of sale, evidenced by the purchaser's interest bearing notes and secured by retention of title until the last payment is made.
THOMAS R. KEITH,
Commissioner of sale.

In the Clerk's Office of the Circuit Court of Fairfax county, Va.
I, W. E. Graham, Deputy Clerk of said Court, do certify that the bond required of the commissioner of sale in the above matter has been executed by him with approved surety. Given under my hand this 15th of February, 1907.
W. E. GRAHAM, Deputy Clerk.

A MAN OF LETTERS.

Rare Brevity and Beauty of Lincoln's More Notable Addresses.

Nothing would have amazed Mr. Lincoln more than to hear himself called a man of letters, and yet it would be hard to find in all literature anything to excel the brevity and beauty of his address at Gettysburg or the lofty grandeur of his second inaugural. In Europe his style has been called a model for the study and imitation of princes, while in our own country many of his phrases have already passed into the daily speech of mankind.

His gift of putting things simply and clearly was partly the habit of his own clear mind and partly the result of the training he gave himself in days of boyish poverty, when paper and ink were luxuries almost beyond his reach and the words he wished to set down must be the best words and the clearest and shortest to express the ideas he had in view. This training of thought before expression, of knowing exactly what he wished to say before saying it, stood him in good stead all his life, but only the mind of a great man with a lofty soul and a poet's vision, one who had suffered deeply and felt keenly, who carried the burden of a nation on his heart, whose sympathies were as broad and whose kindness was as great as his moral purpose was strong and firm, could have written the deep, forceful, convincing words that fell from his pen in the later years of his life. It was the life he lived, the noble aim that upheld him, as well as the genius with which he was born, that made him one of the greatest writers of our time.—Helen Nicolay in St. Nicholas.

AN ODD DUEL.

It Introduced a Frenchman to the Possibilities of Baseball.

A Frenchman challenged an American to fight. The American, a husky six footer from Yale, who had pitched on the baseball team and stroked the crew, was loath to accept and took the matter as something of a joke. The count pressed his desire for satisfaction, and at last the son of old Eli consented to meet him, stipulating that he should choose his own weapons. Seconds were agreed upon, and the mode of combat chosen by the American was baseballs at twenty paces. It was dangerously close range for a man who spent three years twirling inshoots and outdrops over a twelve inch plate and likely to be a pretty accurate shot with a baseball, but the Frenchman was game, and they met on the outskirts of the city at daybreak.

Each was to have three shots, and the count won the toss and thereby the privilege of leading off. Perhaps he had never seen a baseball before, and, at any rate, the man from Yale had no difficulty in dodging the adamantine spheres which the son of Belle France sent scaling in his direction.

Then the American opened fire. The first ball grazed the Frenchman's shoulder, the second lodged in the pit of his stomach and the third, an inshoot, caught him full on the point of the chin. He went down and out and never challenged another American citizen.

ARGO, ARGO, ARGO, ARGO, ARGO, ARGO, ARGO, ARGO, ARGO.

Orange Blossoms.

Much uncertainty exists as to why the orange blossom has been so much worn by brides, but the general opinion seems to be that it was adopted as an emblem of fruitfulness. According to some authorities, the practice has been derived from the Saracens, among whom the orange blossom was regarded as a symbol of a prosperous marriage, a circumstance which is partly to be accounted for by the fact that in the east the orange tree bears ripe fruit and blossoms at the same time.

Endorsed by the Country.

"The most popular remedy in Otsego county, and the best friend of my family," writes Wm. M. Dietz, editor and publisher of the Otsego Journal, Gilbertsville, N. Y., "is Dr. King's New Discovery. It has proved to be an infallible cure for coughs and colds, making short work of the worst of them. We always keep a bottle in the house. I believe it to be the most valuable prescription known for Lung and Throat diseases." Guaranteed to never disappoint the taker, by E. S. Leadbeater & Sons, druggists. Price 50c and $1. Trial bottle free.

No Place For Grumblers.

A man who stands on the street corner chewing and spitting, telling how the government should be run, cursing the town, finding fault with his grandmother because she was a woman, claiming that the merchants are a lot of thieves, that the lawyers and newspaper men would skin a man to a finish and a whole lot more, is a nuisance and an abomination. Any town pestered with one or more such worthies would be justified in exercising cowhide authority on the bosom of their trousers. No one is obliged to live where he is not suited. If things don't suit you go where they will. A growler and a sorehead in a town is an enterprise killer every time.—Macksville (Kan.) Enterprise.

It's a pleasure to tell our readers about a Cough Cure like Dr. Shoop's. For years Dr. Shoop has fought against the use of Opium, Chloroform, or other unsafe ingredients commonly found in Cough remedies. Dr. Shoop, it seems, has welcomed the Pure Food and Drug Law recently enacted, for he has worked along similar lines many years. For nearly 20 years Dr. Shoop's Cough Cure contains have had a warning printed on them against Opium and narcotic poisons. He has thus made it possible for mothers to protect their children by simply insisting on having Dr. Shoop's Cough Cure. Sold by E. S. Leadbeater & Sons, druggists.

Piles of people have Piles. Why suffer from piles when you can use DeWitt's Carbolized Witch Hazel Salve and get relief. Nothing else so good. Beware of imitations. See that the name is stamped on each box. Sold by W. F. Creighton & Co., 401 King street.

Does Coffee disagree with you? Probably it does! Then try Dr. Shoop's Health Coffee. "Health Coffee" is a clever combination of parched cereals and nuts. Not a grain of real Coffee, remember, in Dr. Shoop's Health Coffee, yet its flavor and taste matches closely old Java and Mocha Coffee. If your stomach, heart, or kidneys can't stand Coffee drinking, try Health Coffee. It is wholesome, nourishing, and satisfying. If safe even for the youngest child. Sold by E. S. Leadbeater & Sons, druggists.

The American Magazine.

Ida M. Tarbell, who wrote Lincoln and the famous "story of Rockefeller;" William Allen White, the well-known Kansas editor; F. P. Dunne, creator of "Mr. Dooley"; Ray Stannard Baker and Lincoln Steffens are under the leadership of John S. Philips, now editor the American Magazine.

Never before has such a brilliant group been gathered together, and they are not only contributing themselves, but are filling the magazine with the very best novels and short stories and great timely articles by other famous writers and beautiful pictures by great artists.

A Great Bargain.

The regular price for the twelve numbers of the American Magazine is $1.20—little enough as it is, but for a limited time you can get the November and December, 1906, numbers, with a full year's subscription for 1907, for a dollar, or

14 Numbers for Only $1.00

Think of it! Think of the quality of reading you get for $1.00. Think of the quantity—at least two great novels, 26 short stories, 28 poems, 70 timely articles, 800 beautiful pictures, and all for $1.00.

How About Your Winter Reading?

Cut this offer out, write your name and address on a slip of paper and mail it with $1.00. Send it now—today—before the special 14 months' offer is withdrawn. Send it by check, postal money order or a dollar bill, at the publisher's risk, to the American Magazine, 141 Fifth Avenue, New York City.
